Dear Customer

We hope you are enjoying looking through our mail order catalogue by Winter 1989-90, and making your selection. For those of you who are new to AA Enterprises, we are a workers' co-operative trading in support of the Front Line States of Southern Africa (Angola, Botswana, Mozambique, Tanzania, Zambia and Zimbabwe) and the British Anti-Apartheid Movement.

Besides raising funds for the Anti-Apartheid Movement through weekly payments on merchandise, advertising, sponsorship of campaigns, and by collecting donations through our catalogue, we seek to increase support for the sanctions campaign against apartheid and the economic boycott of South African produce.

Don't bog apartheid! The Front Line States have not only carried upon the world to impose sanctions against the apartheid regime in Pretoria, but can themselves supply high quality alternatives to South African produce. We aim to make this music, art and stage, crafts, food and other products available to our customers.

Since AA Enterprises started trading in June 1988, we have raised thousands of ££ for the Anti-Apartheid Movement and developed strong links of friendship and solidarity with our partner producers in the Front Line States. If you would like further information about our work please ask for a copy of our annual report.

With best wishes,
AA ENTERPRISES

SUPPORT THE FRONT LINE STATES

The Front Line (and neighbouring states of Southern Africa) are estimated to have suffered a staggering $60 billion of damage from South African aggression and destabilisation in the last eight years alone. The total cost is attributable to Pretoria's policies since 1960 is over 1.3 million people, including hundreds of thousands of children.

These are the real costs of the refusal of the west, led by Britain, to impose economic sanctions against apartheid South Africa. Sanctions, properly enforced, would strip the South African army and airforce from attacking neighbouring countries and destroying their economies.

Today the Pretoria regime is pretending to be engaged in a 'peace' offensive in the region. In reality, South Africa is warning its forces, strengthening its nuclear capacity and clamping down on internal opposition through its national state of emergency.

The Front Line States of Angola, Botswana, Mozambique, Tanzania, Zambia and Zimbabwe face a formidable enemy. But despite the ever-present threat of apartheid warfare, they are continuing the struggle to build independent, non-racial democracies in the region and to win peace and prosperity for their peoples.
