

don't choose South African

The South African economy is based on legalised racism, known as Apartheid.

Africans in South Africa have called for an international boycott of South African goods. This call has been echoed by resolutions of the U.N., the World Council of Churches and others. Help them end Apartheid by ending your collaboration.

'EVERY TIME A SOUTH AFRICAN PRODUCT IS BOUGHT IT IS ANOTHER BRICK IN THE WALL OF OUR EXISTENCE.'

Vorster, Prime Minister of South Africa, speaking in 1972.

LOOK BEFORE YOU BUY

South African goods on sale in British shops are often cheap. They are cheap because they are produced by people paid starvation wages, and working under conditions of virtual slavery. Britain is the biggest buyer of South African goods and over 600 British firms operate in and follow the same racist policies in South Africa. Help to end this vicious circle - don't buy goods with these labels:
