

LESSON 5: What do effective pressure groups have in common?

In the final lesson, students evaluate their pressure group, using the evaluation sheet provided. The final discussion should then centre around what an effective pressure group is like, and how they might have made their pressure group even better.

They can also look online at other organisations' websites.

1

2